'ROUND 'N' 'ROUND JAPAN TELLS NAVY NEEDS TO PARLEY NEGRO IDENTIFIED AS TRALLA SLAYER GIRL VICTIM IDENTIFIES PHOTO WOMAN TO HANG SOON SEWING ON NOOSE GOWN Confirmed As Chief Justice JURIST WINS BY 52 TO 26 BALLOT

Well! Well! The old club is beginning to swing. The powers that be, are getting things into shape for the fall election. State Controller Ray L. Riley has formally withdrawn from the race for governor and says he will be a candidate to succeed himself. At the same time, George G. Radcliffe, Watsonville publisher and T. A. Kelly of San Diego, chief deputy real estate commissioner have announced that they will not try to get the post of state controller.

Nice friendly little game these boys play. You stretch my back and I'll scratch yours.

And that little contest that is going on in Oakland about the streets. That proposition made a wonderful issue to base the fight upon—but we wonder when and if the entire story of the situation will be published.

Looks as though some of the old timers who have had things their own way in the running of things for our big neighbor are going to have a lot of explaining to do. Maybe some of the boys are throwing ashes on the track to make sledding a little harder at the next election.

And as for the county political situation. Write your own ticket. There are only eight columns on this page and only eight such pages containing eight columns in this paper so we couldn't possibly publish all the rumors. But it really begins to look as though we might have an interesting race this fall.

Which reminds me—are you registered, and if not, why not? Today is the best time to get your name on the dotted line so that you will be able to sign some of those petitions which will be in circulation soon. Then you are also required to register in order to vote at the primary and final elections.

Some time ago we wrote an article about some of our staff being victims of Dan Cupid's darts.

Seems as how someone has misunderstood just what we meant. That reference did in no way apply to our cross-word puzzle fans, who we understand are being unjustly accused of trying to commit matrimony.

'Tis true they wander about with that far away look in their eyes, but they assure us that it is only spring fever.

As for the two youths who have been smitten—the ties are getting brighter and their lapses of memory longer. 'Tis sad, alas, too sad!

JAPAN TELLS NAVY NEEDS TO PARLEY

LONDON, Feb. 13.—(U.P.)—The long awaited statements of the French and Japanese naval heads were made at the five-power conference today.

Japan stood adamant for 70 per cent of American strength in auxiliary warcraft, especially in large cruisers, and for 78,000 tons of submarines.

France came out for a total navy nearly as large as Japan's by 1936, with indications that she might scale down the tonnage in exchange for a treaty guaranteeing her security. She indicated she would cut her battleship requirements if a holiday until 1936 were declared, and she set her submarine needs at 99,629 tons.

Italy Demands—An authoritative Italian statement tonight intimated that Italy's demand for parity with France remained unchanged, although she did not wish actually to build up to the French strength. If Franco-Italian parity was assured, the total tonnage demands of the five powers might now be stated for the first time as follows:

Great Britain, 1,200,000 tons.
United States, 1,200,000 tons.
Japan, 774,000 tons.
France, 724,479 tons.
Italy, 724,479 tons.

The American and British totals were mentioned by Premier J. Ramsay MacDonald last week. They were based on the assumption that sufficient battleships would be scrapped to reach the capital ship levels set by the Washington treaty of 1922.

No Total—The Japanese set no total, but their 774,000-ton figure is arrived at by adding their battleship and aircraft carrier allotments under the Washington treaty to 70 per cent of American auxiliary strength.

The French memorandum estimated tonnage requirements of 724,479 tons on Dec. 31, 1936, under conditions that, as proposed by the American and British states.

NEW PAVING ROW CHARGE

OAKLAND, Feb. 13.—When residents of the upper Fruitvale avenue district charged that they were being billed for paving costs in excess of the actual contract price of the work, a new line of inquiry was presented to the grand jury today in the investigation of the Oakland paving situation.

Thomas W. Pack, a resident of the district, appeared before District Attorney Earl Warren and assistant District Attorney Ralph Hoyt, and charged that originally a price was quoted for oil macadam of $5.59 a front foot.

By agreement with the property owners calling for that type of pavement the petitions were changed, through arguments by Fred Haase, then agent for the Vibro-Lithic company. According to Pack, Haase promised that the price would not run over $6.14 a front foot. It was found, after the bids were in, that the price was in the neighborhood of $8 a front foot.

After some argument, property owners agreed to this price. Despite the bid price, Pack charged, the bills received after the work was done, ranged from $9 to over $10 a front foot.

Pack declared the contract price does not warrant the extra charge, and asks that the grand jury inquire into the question. Pack asserted that the high price charged is working such a hardship on the residents of the district that many are in danger of losing their homes.

Pack then continued, tracing the history of the case from 1926 when Bates and Borland, Oakland paving contractors, circulated a petition for improving the streets with oil macadam. The estimated (Continued on Page 8)

KEYES DENIED NEW HEARING

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 13.—(U.P.)—Former District Attorney Asa Keyes and Ed H. Rosenberg, a broker, late today were denied a rehearing from conviction on bribery charges by the district court of appeals.

The appellate court two weeks ago upheld the conviction and sentences of from one to 14 years imposed by the Los Angeles county superior court.

Keyes and Rosenberg were found guilty of conspiring to free defendants in the Julian Ott corporation collapse trials which came up for prosecution during Keyes' stay in office.

The appellate court did not wait for the attorney general's answer to the petitions filed by attorneys for the men. As a result of today's decision, they now must take the case to the state supreme court if they desire to continue the fight.

Rosenberg has gone to San Quentin prison to begin serving his sentence and Keyes has been in the county jail for more than a year, but the county jail confinement does not count on his sentence.

NEW LIGHTS TO BE GIVEN TEST TONIGHT

Tests of the new street lighting system on Nevin avenue between Sixth and Ninth streets and on Twenty-third street from Macdonald avenue to the northerly city limits are scheduled to be held tonight, with engineers of the General Electric company present to check each light.

It is expected that within a month or two the lights will be placed into general use.

The Twenty-third street system was installed by the V. G. Electric company while the Globe Electric company installed the system on Nevin avenue.

The new lights on Twenty-third street are of the latest type. Each electrolux contains two lights of 600 candle power each. A reflector system is so arranged that the lights can be thrown upon the street and sidewalks to the best advantage.

The metal light standards were manufactured at the Santa Fe foundry in Richmond.

When the new system is approved by the city council, the lights will be turned on at dusk. At midnight, one of the lights will be turned off.

Engineers declare that the new system here is one of the most modern in the state.

TEAR GAS BOMBS USED TO DISPERSE RIOTING STUDENTS

ALBION, Mich., Feb. 13.—(U.P.)—Tear gas bombs finally dispersed a rioting crowd of more than 250 Albion college students tonight who were incensed at imprisonment of 50 of their comrades in a theater, which they had tried to "crash" celebrating a basketball victory.

The milling crowd of playful students swarmed down town after a basketball game in which the Methodists defeated their ancient Presbyterian rivals, Alma.

About 50 of the students slipped into the theater from the rear, when suddenly they discovered that the owner had trapped them by placing inside three state policemen and two city policemen.

Meanwhile, more than 150 students milled about the front of the theater. Twenty students were arrested and taken to the city jail. A rescue squad was formed by the students, and quickly broke down the jail door with pickaxes, liberating their comrades.

Police called for additional aid, and two state policemen from Jackson hurried over with tear gas bombs.

A huge moving van was commandeered to take the imprisoned students to the county jail at Marshall, 20 miles away, but the job proved too big for the small force of police.

As fast as students were placed in the van, friends managed to release them.

NEGRO IDENTIFIED AS TRALLA SLAYER

GIRL VICTIM IDENTIFIES PHOTO

OAKLAND, Feb. 13.—(U.P.)—Ella Hibbs, companion of Nick Tralla who was murdered on Jan. 17, today identified a picture of Jesse Anderson, 40, as the negro who had killed Tralla, according to police.

When shown the picture, Miss Hibbs screamed identification, and collapsed into the arms of a jail matron.

Anderson, a negro cotton picker was taken into custody at Firebaugh as a suspect in the murder of Tralla and the brutal beating of the girl. The description forwarded from Firebaugh tallies with that given by the girl, police state.

Anderson is six feet one inch tall, weighs 187 pounds and has noticeably high cheekbones, and is 40 years old.

Denies Killing—He denied that he is the man who killed Tralla and attacked Miss Hibbs, when told of the identification of his picture by the girl.

In his statement to police, Anderson said he had not been up that way for the past six months, and he knew nothing about the case.

At the time of the killing, Anderson declared he was working for a man named Craig at Bakersfield picking cotton.

Awaiting Deputies—He is being held in the Firebaugh jail awaiting arrival of a group of deputy sheriffs from Oakland who left this noon.

Anderson's arrest was due chiefly to investigations of J. J. Collier and James Davis, Oakland deputy sheriffs.

The negro's statement to Miss Hibbs on the night of the murder that he was a cotton picker on his way to Oakland to visit sick relatives started the search in the cotton district.

Photographs of the suspect were taken only after the officers had interviewed 1500 negroes.

Giant Negro Accused—Tralla was murdered and Miss Hibbs brutally beaten by what Miss Hibbs said was a "giant negro." The attack occurred on a lonely road between Oakland and Livermore. The couple was returning from an automobile ride to Pleasanton where they had been looking for work for the woman.

When the attack took place, the mysterious heat Tralla to death with a hammer and when Miss Hibbs attempted to interfere, beat her also.

Collier and Davis, although under temporary suspension while an investigation is being conducted by the grand jury, are continuing investigation of the case unofficially. They will be permitted to conduct the questioning of Anderson.

Mendoza Faces Provide Charge

Mendoza was arrested on the complaint of Mrs. E. R. Geska.

WOMAN TO HANG SOON SEWING ON NOOSE GOWN

FLORENCE, Ariz., Feb. 13.—(U.P.)—Eva Dugan, the first woman doomed to hang in Arizona, finds life "mighty sweet."

"Of course, I won't give up, until it happens. I could do a lot with the rest of my life, if they would let me have it," the 51-year old woman told the United Press.

Mrs. Dugan is sentenced to die Feb. 21 for murder of A. J. Mathis, Tucson Ariz., rancher, for whom she worked as housekeeper and with whom she lived as common-law wife.

Threading a needle in her cell, she held up a shimmering dress, on which she has been working the past few hours.

"My shroud," she explained. "They're going to hang me in it." The woman sells beads and other trinkets. With the proceeds she is buying a coffin.

"And I'm sending money to my father, William McDaniels, at Ceres, Calif. That's near Modesto. She wants to be buried in Florence."

Mrs. Dugan has asked her two children to remain away from her. A son, 29 years old, lives at Los Angeles, while the daughter, who is two years older, makes her home in New York.

The death watch was set late Wednesday, after the state pardons board had refused to commute her sentence from the death penalty to life imprisonment.

GOVERNOR DECLINES BID TO HANGING—FLORENCE, Ariz., Feb. 13.—(U.P.)—Gov. John C. Phillips today declined an invitation to attend the hanging of Eva Dugan, doomed to die on the gallows Feb. 21 for the murder of A. J. Mathis, Tucson Ariz., rancher. The superintendent of prisons sent out the invitation, required by law.

BANDIT SLAIN IN HOLDUP

DETROIT, Feb. 13.—(U.P.)—The second holdup of the main office of the Western Union Telegraph in a week resulted tonight in the death of one bandit, the critically wounding of a policeman and the slight wounding of three private watchmen.

Three bandits entered the office, in the midst of the downtown banking district, while two remained outside as guards. Inside, the leader ordered several clerks to hold up their hands. One stepped on an alarm button while he raised his arms.

The button signalled officers of a private detective service on the floor above. Three watchmen hurried down. One, James Caplin, 30, entered through the inside hall, and was shot and wounded just before the bandits started to flee with the $300 loot.

At the outer door, the two other watchmen met the fleeing robbers. In the ensuing revolver battle, one bandit was shot and killed, and John Scott, 46, watchman, was wounded slightly.

The four remaining robbers left their dead comrade behind, commandeered a large sedan and escaped. Four blocks away, Patrolman Joseph Halls became suspicious of the speeding car. He called to its driver to halt and was answered with two revolver bullets in his chest. He fell wounded so seriously that physicians said he probably would die.

Two Building Permits Issued

Two building permits were issued yesterday in the office of A. J. Hurley, city building inspector.

Dr. George Gottstein was granted a permit to wreck a frame store structure at 119 Macdonald avenue. The El Cerrito wrecking company is to do the work.

William Aichenger obtained a permit to erect a bed room addition to a home on Chanslor avenue between Sixteenth and Seventeenth streets. The work to cost $350 will be done by W. K. Martin.

NEW JUSTICE TAKES SEAT ON FEB. 24

NEW YORK, Feb. 13.—(U.P.)—Charles Evans Hughes will take his seat in the United States Supreme Court when it reconvenes Feb. 24, he said in a statement tonight.

The new chief justice's statement, which he prepared at home after having been informed by newspapers and press associations of his confirmation, said:

"My appreciation of the honor of the appointment is outweighed by a deep sense of responsibility. The ideals and principles relating to public service with which I entered public life 25 years ago and which I have tried to exemplify in public office, I hold unaltered."

"In facing this new and most important task I am heartened by the generous expressions I have received from all parts of our land. I wish to express my most grateful acknowledgements."

"I expect to qualify and take my seat at the opening of the next session of the court."

PANTAGES IN FREEDOM PLEA

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 13.—(U.P.)—Alexander Pantages today took two legal steps in connection with the attack on Eunice Pringle, of which he was convicted. His attorneys asking the district court to appeal to release him on bond pending decision on his appeal and filing an answer to the $100,000 civil action brought by the girl.

The appellate court took the request for liberty under submission after hearing his attorneys argue that unless he was released from the county jail he might die. Deputy District Attorney Robert Stewart opposed the request, which has been denied twice in superior court and upheld by the appellate body.

The reply to Miss Pringle's civil action denied each paragraph of the girl's complaint in which she repeated charges made in the criminal case which resulted in Pantages' sentence to serve from one to 50 years in San Quentin prison.

Laundrymen Cited By Health Officers

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 13.—(U.P.)—On allegations that they furnish a menace to the health of the city, 45 laundrymen of San Francisco must appear in police court here next Wednesday. The charges against them are that they are operating without licenses.

JURIST WINS BY 52 TO 26 BALLOT

WASHINGTON, Feb. 13.—(U.P.)—Charles Evans Hughes was confirmed by the Senate tonight as Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court over the objections of mid-western and Democratic Senators.

The vote was 52 to 26. It came a few minutes after the Senate, 31 to 49, defeated a motion by Senator Norris, leader of the opposition, to recommend the nomination to his judiciary committee so that Hughes' policies could be examined more closely. Previous to that, Norris' attempt to gain further time for the fight by recessing was defeated by Hughes' regular Republican supporters, 35 to 45.

The nomination of the successor to William Howard Taft was up for three days while the westerners, led by Senator Borah, Rep. Idaho, and Norris, Rep. Nebraska, protested that Hughes would perpetuate a new tendency of the court in elevating property rights.

Fourteen Democrats voted with 38 Republicans to confirm Hughes. Fifteen Democrats and eleven Republicans voted against confirmation.

The opposition to Hughes obtained fewer votes among the Republican-Independents than had been expected.

BLIZZARD ON WAY SOUTH

CHICAGO, Feb. 13.—(U.P.)—A howling blizzard with temperatures far below zero in the fast-flooding Mackinac river valley of the Canadian sub-Arctic threatened tonight to rout spring like weather in which the middle west has been basking for several days.

Ice gales shot the thermometer readings downward rapidly in Winnetka, Manitoba, while further north near north looms were reached. It was 30 degrees below zero at Bartlettford, Sask., and at the Pas, Manitoba.

Prevailing winds sent the cold wave zooming southward, scattering it slightly as temperatures started to sag all along the International boundary.

Merchants Lay Spring Plans

Members of the Richmond Merchant's association yesterday elected directors for the ensuing year at a meeting in the Hotel Caranuz.

Officers of the association will be named at a meeting of the directors next week.

During the meeting, style events for this year's spring opening were discussed. March 6, 7 and 8 are the days set aside for the opening, and merchants of the city are planning to feature the newest styles for the season.

Merchant's of Richmond will observe Washington's birthday as a holiday, and close their stores. Members of the association were unanimous in this decision.

First Aid to New York Mothers

NEW YORK women, we hope, will appreciate and support the legislative move in their behalf undertaken by Assemblyman Langdon W. Post of this city, who is introducing a bill at Albany this week providing for a commission to study maternal and infant mortality, "to the end that death due to childbirth may be reduced."

It seems to us that nothing more important for the welfare of women and children can be done by the Legislature. We doubt if any piece of legislation proposed during the current session is more worthy of the hundred per cent. support of all the women's organizations. The simple fact is that this whole matter of making maternity safe for women is abominably neglected, not only in New York but the country over. It is difficult for any woman who knows the statistical facts to write about the topic with temperance. Assemblyman Post himself quotes from New York's bitter record the following figures:

The maternal mortality rate is second only to tuberculosis in New York State.

These figures do not include the great number of mothers who never fully recover their normal health.

The average annual maternal death rate in New York State in 1915-1920 was 56.8 per 10,000 births, and there was not the least reduction in the rate for 1921-1925.

State aid in New York for maternity has dropped from $204,388 to $130,160 in three years, although after the largest appropriation, in 1925, the following year showed the lowest death rate of the decade; and although one maternity clinic, set up by the State Department of Health in the city of Lackawanna, cut the maternity death rate in that city 44 per cent. in one year.

WHY must maternity be for American women an extraordinary occupation? For, as Assemblyman Post points out, this situation is not peculiar to New York State alone. At the recent convention of the American Association of Obstetricians, Gynecologists and Abdominal Surgeons, it was announced that since 1924 the United States has carried the highest maternity mortality rate of the civilized nations—3.5 deaths of mothers per 1,000 births.

Sixty-five per cent. of the maternal deaths, these scientists declared, were due to two causes, septicemia and toxemia, both preventable. The importance of skilled attention and pre-natal care was urged.

Various women's organizations have pointed out that, according to actual statistics, it is more hazardous in the United States to become a mother than it was for a man to become a soldier under the Stars and Stripes during the World War.

LAKE of proper attention and care—lack of money for health work for mothers and babies, though our Federal Government spends $10,000,000 annually for health work among animals—here seems to be the shameful explanation of why American motherhood is an extraordinary occupation. It occurs to us that various worthy gentlemen, who are forever urging the women in the United States to have more babies, might get farther with their propaganda if, first, women were better protected in having the babies they now have.

An important step in this direction for New York is Assemblyman Post's proposal for a commission of inquiry to the end that death due to childbirth may be reduced. THE WOMAN OF IT earnestly hopes that his bill becomes law.

Plaint of One Who Holds a Substitute's License in the New York City Elementary Schools

Oh, I'm a grand alumna,
And I'm a swell B. A.
And so I tramp the city schools
For substituting by the day.

They gaze at me in sorrow—
I have a hungry look,
They hand me, on each morn'g,
A fatish red blackbook.

"Oh, write your name, my darling,
With some five thousand more,
And if perchance there's a change,
We'll knock at your front door."

Oh, I'm a grand alumna,
And I'm a swell B. A.
Yet I suspect I'll be reduced
To washing by the day.

According to an old-time book of homemade wines, parsnips were in favor for heavy beverages. Nowadays the root is served as a vegetable, as a sweetener of the soup or baked dinner and as an ingredient in muffins, biscuits and waffles.

The lowly and inexpensive winter root conceals much that is good within its skin—vitamins B and G, for instance, starch, sugar and plenty of cellulose.

Simply cooked in a very little water, or steamed or cooked in parchment, then mashed and treated to a bit of butter and seasoning, parsnips are most appetizing.

BUTTERED PARSNIPS

One and one-half pounds parsnips
Boiling water to cover
One tablespoon butter
One-half teaspoon salt, or more
One-eighth teaspoon white pepper

Boiling time: fifteen to thirty minutes, according to size of pieces

Servings: five

Thorough cooking in as small a quantity of boiling water as possible means better parsnips for eating. After peeling they may be cut in dice to facilitate the cooking and that

She's Getting Thinner Every Day

Her Fat is Melting Fast Away

All over the world Kruschen Salts is appealing to girls and women who strive for an attractive, free from fat figure that cannot fail to win admiration.

Here's the recipe that banishes fat and brings into blossom all the natural attractiveness that every woman possesses.

Every morning take one-half teaspoon of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water before breakfast.

Be sure and do this every morning for "It's the little daily dose that takes off the fat." Don't miss a morning.

The Kruschen habit means that every particle of poisonous waste matter and harmful acids and gases are expelled from the system.

At the same time the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels are toned up and the pure, fresh blood containing Nature's six life-giving salts are carried to every organ, gland, nerve and fibre of the body.

This is followed by "that Kruschen feeling" of energetic health and activity that is reflected in bright eyes, clear skin, cheerful vivacity and charming figure.

Get an 85c bottle of Kruschen Salts at La Moine Drug Co., or any drug store (lasts 4 weeks), with the distinct understanding that you must be satisfied with results or money back.

One Montana woman lost 19 pounds of fat in 4 weeks and feels better than she has for years.

TAMING SHREW MASTER OF COMEDIES

Richmond had an opportunity yesterday to see for themselves the much heralded "Taming of the Shrew," in which Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks appear for the first time as co-stars. It was truly an event of importance and the crowds at the Fox-California theater attested the success of this great combination.

It is only fair to say that advance reports of the film were not exaggerated. Here is a rollicking comedy that brought gales of laughter and kept the audience at a high pitch of enthusiasm from the opening scene to the final one.

While "Taming of the Shrew" is from the master pen of Shakespeare, it is so modern in handling and so human in plot that it might just as well have been the product of a contemporary playwright. Director Sam Taylor, who also wrote the film adaptation, never lost a single bit of Shakespeare's delicious comedy and, in fact, contributed many bits of business that added to the hilarious proceedings.

Mary Pickford at Katherine, the Shrew, gave a performance that will stand for many moons as the high water mark of dramatic perfection. She wore her gorgeous costumes with grace and somehow seemed more beautiful than ever.

The ebullient Douglas Fairbanks was his own self as Petruchio. It is a part that suits him admirably in every aspect, and in addition to the usual audacious rascal that he always manages to make of every part, he contributes some of the best comedy that has ever reached the screen.

The talking comedy "Ticklish Business" is also on the program.

POLICE QUELL 1500 RIOTERS

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 13.—UP—A 30 block area in the center of the east Liberty business section was the scene late today of the wildest disorders police have had to contend with since Pittsburgh's taxicab drivers walked out on strike for higher wages 33 days ago.

Upwards of 1500 strikers, sympathizers and strike breakers gathered for three hours all efforts of police to quell a dozen riots which flared up throughout the section. Shortly before five p. m. the mob retreated and dispersed after police began a tear gas attack.

Seven riot calls during the late afternoon brought every police reserve in the city to East Liberty. Mounted patrolmen charged into the crowd in vain.

ATTORNEY SEES RECORD YEAR

"We have good reason to believe that 1930 and many succeeding years will be years for real estate investment," said Henry Hawson, attorney, in addressing the annual banquet of the Fresno real estate board, a member unit of the California Real Estate association.

The period of headache following the financial debacle is passing, and a sober people, profiting from experience, will turn to the wiser, although less spectacular field of investment, and the unnatural depression of real property values will give way to an orderly enhancement and appreciation.

"Opportunities for profit-taking offer on every hand. Never again, in all probability, will stable values be obtainable at present figures. The cycle of real estate investment possibilities has come once more.

"It was John Jacob Astor's investments in real estate which laid the foundation for one of the world's greatest fortunes. Betty Green, foremost example of American women's financial genius, made it a rule of her investment life to buy real estate when it was low in price, reaping the resultant profit when the cycle of advanced values came again, as inevitably it did come and will continue to come long after the memory of Betty Green and her financial philosophy have been forgotten."

AMIABILITY OF JACK EGAN LAUDED

Jack Egan, featured player in "The Broadway Hooper," the Columbia all talking musical romance coming to the screen of the Fox-California theater tomorrow is a striking exception to the rule that actors are temperamental. He enjoys the reputation of being one of the most amiable and even-tempered thespians in Hollywood. Perfect serenity is the keynote of his personality.

No matter how long or arduous the hours of rehearsal or shooting are, he preserves the most unruffled exterior. "I've never understood," says Jack Egan, "why actors claim the privilege of being temperamental. Of course actors must be responsive—their emotions must always be near the surface. But the very sensitiveness that is an essential part of their makeup should make them anxious to avoid scenes that must react unpleasantly on the nerves."

Director George Archibald was therefore spared much unpleasantness and delay since scenes of "The Broadway Hooper" required an exactitude that would have tried the nerves of the calmest person. Other film musicals are Ernest Hillard, Howard Hickman, Gertrude Short and Eileen Percy.

Special added attraction "Around the World with the Graf Zeppelin" thrilling, exciting, entertaining is also to be presented.

CHICAGO QUIET ON MASSACRE ANNIVERSARY

CHICAGO, Feb. 13.—UP—Five of the first anniversary of the St. Valentine's day massacre tonight found Chicago's far-famed gangsters on the run.

A concerted drive against crime which resulted in arrest of more than 2000 criminal suspects in the last few days sent the big shots in criminal circles into hiding from their accustomed haunts.

The few that dared to remain in the city were rounded up promptly and jailed.

The civic scene thus was a different cry from that which sent police cars screaming through the streets a year ago tomorrow while stunned citizens read of the massacre of seven members of the "Bugs" Moran gang, which had occurred a few hours earlier.

Although the crime still is unsolved, it started a police drive which at last is beginning to show signs of removing the stigma of crime from Chicago.

Anniversary of the massacre finds the police department more efficient, perhaps, than it ever has been before, even though the 5923 officers on the force have been unpaid since the first of the year because of financial difficulties which threaten to bankrupt the city government.

The police drive was given impetus when indictments were returned against 18 gun carriers and true bills were reported to have been issued against five prominent gangsters arrested only last night.

Bond for each defendant was set at $10,000 at the insistence of State Attorney John A. Swanson who announced it was his intention to keep every known gangster arrested behind jail bars for as long as possible.

The French committee of the War Veterans' organizations, the International Conference of Mutilated and Ex-soldiers, has passed a resolution stating:

"We deplore that the war is being represented to the younger generation as a game, which it should be made to appear in its truly tragic and sombre form, recalling constantly the sufferings and the miseries and destruction it brings to humanity."

The resolution asks mothers and fathers to withhold war toys from their children.

WASHINGTON STIRRED BY LAND PLAN

OLYMPIA, Wash., Feb. 13.—UP—Opinion in Washington is sharply divided as to the wisdom of accepting or rejecting the proposal of President Hoover to deed to the western states all unreserved, unappropriated public domain lands within their boundaries, reserving mineral rights.

State officials, stockmen, agriculturists and reclamation men have widely divergent views on the subject, some emphatic in their belief that the state should accept the tentative offer and others equally emphatic that disastrous consequences to reclamation projects would ensue if the lands were accepted.

R. K. Tiffany of Olympia, member of the Hoover commission on reclamation, conservation and public lands, believes that Washington and other western states should "count 10 and think twice" before accepting the lands. He says that the United States government could not spend one nickel in Washington for reclamation work if all the public lands were deeded to the state.

Although he does not commit himself to any decision in the matter, he warns that acceptance of it might seriously jeopardize federal reclamation work in Washington. The Hoover commission intends to make a thorough investigation of the entire proposal and report to President Hoover before the next step is taken by the federal government, Tiffany says.

Leading the fight for acceptance is Clark V. Salvidge, state land commissioner, who urges the people of Washington to do all they can to induce the federal government to come forward with a definite offer such as indicated by the president's message to the assembled governors in Salt Lake City recently.

Much of the public domain lands should be on the tax rolls, he asserts. Federal lands in Washington, making a huge checkerboard all over the state and decreasing the value of both state and federal holdings.

Many stockmen here believe the unreserved public domain lands should be turned over to the national forestry service so they can obtain permits from one official source for stock grazing instead of being forced to go about from one to another division of government to obtain the permits.

Reclamation men are almost unanimous in the opinion that the federal government should retain the lands. Federal reclamation projects in Washington now have an annual production of between $50,000,000 and $75,000,000 in livestock, poultry, fruit, farm products and the like, and they fear anything that might interfere with the carrying on of the work.

Those opposed to the president's plan declare that the states could derive little if any benefit from the holdings. The value of the land is so slight that the amount sold would be small. If the land were good, it would have been homesteaded long ago, it was said. Any revenues derived from the lease, rental or from grazing fees would be eaten up by costs of administration, they declare.

French Name Street For U. S. Envoy

WORK FINISHED ON ST. MARY'S MEMORIAL

SAINT MARY'S COLLEGE, Feb. 13.—Work was completed here today on the installation of 25 beautiful stained glass windows as a memorial to the Reverend Edward T. Mallon, C. S. P., late pastor of Old St. Mary's parish in San Francisco and a graduate of the college. Dedication ceremonies are expected to take place soon, according to Brother Lewis, president.

Thirteen windows in the clerestory measure 12 feet by four and depict scenes from the life of the Blessed Virgin, to whom the chapel is dedicated. They are arranged in chronological order, beginning with the reproduction of Murillo's famous "Immaculate Conception."

All the scenes have been inspired by the paintings of famous European masters, and are remarkable for the brilliancy of line and effective coloring. One which has attracted favorable comment from art critics who viewed the windows here recently is the "Marriage of Cana." The largest window of the entire group is directly behind the altar and depicts in its triple panels the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin.

Ten smaller windows measuring three feet by four, represent events in the life of St. De La Salle, founder of the Christian Brothers and the patron of popular Christian education.

Over a year was required to design and fabricate these beautiful stained glass portraits in Germany. Installation was made by the American Art Glass company of San Francisco, under the direction of Mr. Stich.

GROUND HOGS PROVE POOR PROPHETS

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 13.—UP—The more adventuresome ground hogs who left the bizzards of the east and middle west to settle in the San Francisco bay region do not know what they are missing.

Authorities on ground hog life said the little animals were many feet under the ground today when the sun they like so well became hotter than it has been here in February for four years and was only six degrees less than the February record set in 1899.

It happened that ground hogs who migrated into a strange land came up a week ago Sunday and saw their shadow. They romped about in the warm sun and chased the shadow all day. Then all arguments would not have convinced them there was not going to be another six weeks of winter and they darted back to their underground havens.

And they don't know that the sun was so hot today that thermometers in the United States Weather Bureau soared to 74 or that the Weather Bureau has recorded that approximately two-thirds of every day since Feb. 2 the sun has broken through fog or light clouds. There has not been any rain or disagreeable weather in that time.

YOUNG NAMES EMERGENCY COUNCIL

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 13.—(UP)—Gov. C. C. Young tonight appointed members of the new state emergency council, authorized by the 1929 legislature to function in time of great state stress, such as the St. Francis dam disaster and the Folsom riot.

Members of the council will be Lyman M. King, director of finance; B. B. Meek, director of public works; John R. Quinn, director of military and veterans' affairs; Walter R. Dickie, director of health; Robert Garner, Jr., of San Bernardino, chairman of the American Legion emergency council which drafted the law; J. Arthur Jeffers of San Francisco, Pacific coast manager for the Red Cross; G. J. Kuhrtz, of Los Angeles, president of the Los Angeles Railway company; George A. Feltier, Sacramento banker, and Roy Steckel, chief of police of Los Angeles.

"During the past three years, California has been confronted with such emergencies as the St. Francis dam disaster," the governor said, "which calls for prompt action to repair damage, relieve distress and prevent the loss of life through possible illness."

"The American Legion, which readily rendered very valuable aid, saw the need for some plan to be put into operation at a moment's notice, and which would vest authority to some body or individual. Consequently, it organized its own emergency commission and sponsored this act. The national Legion organization has been so impressed with this law that it has been adopted as one of its major objectives of the coming year in a program calling for similar legislation in all other states."

Garfinkle's cagers, champions of the Richmond city league for the 1929-30 basketball season, were feted by the management of Garfinkle's Clothing store last night at a banquet in the Roof Garden cafe in San Francisco.

The entire team was present at this event held in their honor. The arrangements for the affair were made by Ernest Marcus, manager of Garfinkle's store, and also manager of the Garfinkle five.

The Garfinkle athletes had a spectacular rise to the title of the city league this season. It suffered defeat only once out of a season containing more than a dozen games.

The messengers who saw action in last night's game were: Mello, Duncan, forwards; Snelling, center; Morrison, Paulas, guards.

Training For Champ.

Young Corbett III, who is preparing for a non-title bout with Jackie Fields at Recreation Ball Park, San Francisco Washington's birthday.

JACKIE FIELDS PREPARES FOR BATTLE

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 13.—Jackie Fields, world's welterweight champion who is facing his first southpaw opponent in actual battle, when he meets Young Corbett III of Fresno at the local ball park on Washington's birthday, has no fear that the attack of the Raisin City contender for the title will bother him.

The champion feels that by the time the day of the battle rolls around that he will have a defense for the attack and will also have a plan mapped out on how to fight a port sider.

In his daily training at a local gymnasium, Fields takes on three experienced southpaws—Red Uhlman, Lefty Cooper and Billy Adams, all middleweights—and he gives them quite a time of it. Cooper has bothered him some, but he is gradually getting "wise" to "Lefty" and it is noticeable to the spectators several hundred of whom watch the champion in action daily. With Uhlman and Adams, his just another workout the way he handles them.

One thing is certain. Fields will be in the best condition of his career for Corbett. The latter is one fighter he wants to beat—and beat badly—and he is leaving no stone unturned in his efforts to get himself in his best fighting form.

LUMBER HELD LIFE OF TAGOMA

TACOMA, Wash., Feb. 13.—(U.P.)—On Puget Sound, at the foot of what they called Mount Tacoma, the Indians for centuries had a spot known as the "Place of the Feast," where sparkling springs poured their waters into the sea. The red men met there twice yearly for feasting and dancing. They would hunt the bears that lurked in the bushes among the salmon berries; they covered the beaches with the white clam shells from their feasts.

Then, 77 years ago, Nicholas de Lin, the Swede, Jacob Bernhardt, the German, and Peter Judson, the Russian, settled on this natural playground and started a sawmill. They blazed the trail for 138,600 (estimated) persons, who are living there today, in the city of Tacoma.

Lumber Is Life
Lumber was its foundation, and lumber has continued to be its life. Lumber cut in the district in 1928 amounted to 1,500,000,000 feet. Tacoma has the largest door factory in the world. In 1928, 3,323,910 doors were manufactured. Tacoma has the largest production of fir veneers, panels, and wooden columns in the world.

A twelfth of the copper used in the United States is refined here. The smokestack at the smelter is 573 feet high, the second tallest in the world and spouts forth a column of smoke visible 50 miles away.

Lowest Power Rate
Tacoma has the lowest power rate in the United States, and grinds more flour than any city west of Minneapolis; the city has 170 miles of paved streets, the largest broom handle factory and the largest totem pole in America. Tacoma is in the heart of the richest berry section in America, with an annual $5,000,000 crop.

Recently Tacoma has become the center of the pulp paper industry in the west.

Prosperity is evidenced by an industrial payroll of $26,000,000 and an annual factory output of $154,000,000.

Track Repair Gangs Busy

After the winter's rains, the annual drive of the truck repair and paving gangs of the Key System Transit company against the chuck holes and bumps is well under way. H. P. Boll, vice-president in charge of engineering for the transit company announced today. According to Boll, repair work has already been undertaken and completed on Grove street, from San Pablo avenue to 55th street, and on Broadway from 24th street to College avenue. Work on Piedmont avenue and East 14th street is scheduled next, Boll says.

HOOVER BANS FISHING ON SUNDAYS

LONG KEY, Fla., Feb. 13.—UP—President Hoover decided tonight to leave here for Washington Saturday, rather than Monday night as planned. He will arrive in Washington in time to put in a full day at his desk on Monday.

The president's associates said his altered plans had not resulted from any press of public business but were arrived at because Hoover did not want to fish on Sunday and an additional two days here would thus have allowed him only one day to fish.

Word of confirmation by the senate of Hoover's nomination of Charles Evans Hughes as chief justice of the United States Supreme Court was received by the president tonight with satisfaction.

The fishing score of the White House family was tied today when Mrs. Hoover returned here shortly before dusk, bringing a 33 pound sail fish as a trophy. The president caught one Monday. The first lady fought with the fish for 25 minutes.

2 Killed, 14 Hurt In Riot

LINCOLN, Argentina, Feb. 13.—UP—A fierce street fight which broke up demonstrations by the conservative party here tonight resulted in the killing of two persons and the wounding of 14 others.

A number of shots from an unknown source were fired into the crowd of the demonstrators, who scattered immediately for shelter to open up a general gun fight with rifles and pistols, which was stopped only by intervention of police.

Steamer Loads Cargo Of Oils

The steamer Silver Ash, of the General Steamship line, docked at the inner harbor yesterday afternoon to load a cargo of oil for the Orient.

The Boston Maru, of the J. J. Moore line, is completing the loading of a cargo of oil.

The Norway Maru is expected to arrive this morning at the inner harbor.

Scott Granted Fight License

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 13.—UP—Phil Scott, English heavyweight who fights Jack Sharkey here Feb. 27 was granted his license by the Miami Boxing Commission today after a week's delay because of the Britisher's failure to appear on time last Thursday. Scott took a 12 round workout today, including eight rounds of sparring.

Dear Mr. Fong—
I am writing this letter to express my gratitude for the splendid results and benefits I have received from the use of the Chinese Herbs
prepared by you.

I had a complicated
case of Liver, Gallbladder and Stomach trouble. After taking your herbs, my stomach
was relieved, my liver was strong, and my digestion was perfect.

This condition steadily became worse over a period of a year. During this time, I was treated by two doctors without any appreciable results. Both decided that an operation was necessary.

I am most happy to strongly recommend the herbs of the Fong
Wan Herb Co. as prepared by you.

Wishing you unbounded success, and again thanking you for what you have done for me, I am,
Very cordially yours,

GENERAL CRACK

Copyright 1928 by Dodd Mead & Co., Inc.
The Warner Bros. & Vitaphone production starring John Barrymore is based on this novel.

SYNOPSIS
General Crack, soldier of fortune, ready against Emperor Leopold,
the instant after fulfilling his obligation of seeing him crowned emperor. He lays waste the land. The Empire is dismembered, and Leopold in flight. Leopold has compromised Crack's girl-wife, the lovely Princess Eleonora, whom Crack had to leave, the instant after marrying her, for the campaign.
Crack captures the Archduchess Maria Luisa, Leopold's sister, and brutally plans to violate her, in revenge for her brother's treachery.
She tells him he is too much a man
to do so, and that she loves him.

CHAPTER XXIII—Continued
Christian regarded her keenly as she spoke; he seemed absorbed in what she said.

"You have a noble mind to speak
thus," he pondered.

"My mind is nothing; my heart speaks. I have always loved you."

With an utterly careless triumph
she watched him and saw a slow colour come into his dark face, and his arrogant eyes falter at last before hers and turn aside.

"From this day in the Hofburg," she added, "when you thought I sighted you. But you . . . never mind now . . . we cannot help each other . . . but never think, Monseigneur, that I was afraid . . . you could my embraces have given you Gaby?"

"Then," smiled Christian, lightly,
"you can expect no less a fate from me."

"I expect nothing," remarked
Leopold, laughingly. "For me life has long since been at an end."

"So," smiled Christian, softly,
"flicking his fur gloves against his thigh, "I can set you up and pull you down as I please, Caesar; and what pleasure is there in it, after all?"

Leopold replied, through clenched teeth, to keep his full lips steady:
"Yoursself, Emperor."

Christian continued to stare at him, long and curiously, with dark, blank, impassable eyes set up and will pull down. Do you think,
General Crack, that your career can long continue? Even if you murder me to-night, there are other men who will wound you out of the Empire."

Christian repeated one word out of this tremulously defiant sentence.

"Murder!" he said, softly. "Murder! And what have you murdered?"

This was the only reference that he made to Eleonora.

Leopold, leaping against the wall to steady himself, flung out:
"What I did, I was driven to do. I warned you not to press me too far,
but you were not warned."

Christian continued to stare at

The excursion will be sponsored by the tour committee of the Fresno chamber of commerce, co-operating with the Fresno realty board, the Advertising club and the Merchants association of that city.

"This will be one of the biggest days at the land show," writes O. O. Reed of the Fresno Realty board.

March 15 has been designated as San Joaquin valley day by request of the committee in charge of the tour.

Starting from Fresno at 8 o'clock Friday morning, the good will tour will reach Los Angeles in the evening, stops being made at important cities enroute. The excursionists will have a special Pullman train with all service.

Los Angeles headquarters will be at the Alexandria hotel, hostelry of the Hamilton chain, which also embraces the Hotel Fresno. Manager White of the Hotel Fresno will accompany the party.

"It is the purpose," writes Reed, "to make that Saturday a day of telling the world about where half of the agricultural products of California come from."

Saturday forenoon will probably be taken up by activities arranged by the chamber of commerce of Los Angeles. The afternoon and evening will be given over to the land show.

An interesting program, including motion pictures, will be given in the lecture hall. A prominent speaker will make an address and there will be other events. Fresno will have one of the finest exhibits at the land show. The other counties of the valley will have impressive displays, also, making a splendid representation for that section.

(Continued from Page 1) Price was $5.59. He related the circumstances of the change to vibratile type, and of a communication to Mrs. F. M. Piper, resident of the club, from Hasse, promising that the price would not exceed $33,995. Pack declared this would figure out approximately $7 a front foot for the work.

Continuing, Pack related how the Oakland Paving company was awarded the bid, and assigned it to the Fitzmaurice company which laid the paving. According to Pack, the contract was let for $40,727.72, which, according to square footage figured out to about $8.14 a front foot.

Peck charges that with the work completed, bills were received running from $9.65 to $10 a front foot.

Property owners in that district also allege poor workmanship and inferior materials, pointing to numerous patches in the street, which, he declares, is breaking down and is being repaired by the city with macadam and tar, instead of concrete.

Indignation is expressed by owners of property on the street in numerous letters to the council.

Hearing of the testimony will be resumed by the grand jury tomorrow, with a number of paving contractors slated to be called as witnesses.

Due for thorough overhauling and cleaning, the Key System ferry boat "San Leandro" was placed on the drydock today. According to H. P. The "San Leandro" will receive such treatment and will then be painted. The interior of the main deck will be modernized and a new pleasing color scheme of light cream color will brighten up the stanchions and side walls. The restaurant on the main deck will be completely renovated and redecorated.

Legal Tangle In Honolulu Death Probe

HONOLULU, T. H., Feb. 13.—(UP)—Briefs were being prepared on the jurisdiction of a judge over the coroner, the question having arisen from demands by Ralph Shainwald, New Rochelle, N. Y., that he be present at the autopsy of his sister, Marion D. Sevier, former New York heiress.

Shainwald filed a petition to restrain Sheriff Patrick Gleason from conducting the autopsy until he is present. Judge Alva E. Steadman will make his ruling next Tuesday and the official investigation into the death of Mrs. Sevier here 18 months ago will be delayed until then unless agreement is reached out of court.

The woman's husband, Col. Granville Sevier, of the 64th Coast Artillery, blocked, temporarily at least, the endeavor of his brother-in-law to be present at the autopsy. His attorney said the understanding had been that neither Shainwald nor Sevier could attend.

The primary question is Judge Steadman's jurisdiction in such a situation.

The Ford Motor company was able to reduce the price of the Ford car and to increase the minimum wage of its employees by the almost daily development of new economies through better manufacturing methods.

A recent instance of this is a new hard chrome plating and heat treating method for hard surfaceing tools used in the manufacture of Ford automobiles.

Steel, of which the tools are made, after being treated by the new method has been found to give 218 hours of service in certain grinding operations as against four hours, the limit of service under old conditions.

JAPAN, FRANCE TELL NEEDS TO PARLEY

ments, the powers are to base their agreement on a building program running from 1930 to 1936. France would be willing to accept this method, the memorandum added, with the double reservation that the four other powers did the same and that the French parliament ratified the decision.

The 1930-1936 French program as outlined would require the construction of 240,000 tons of war-craft, it was explained, of which 43,200 tons, or 18 per cent, would represent complementary building and 196,800 tons, or 82 per cent, would be replacements of obsolete ships.

Reduction Seen In case of a battleship building holiday until 1936, it was suggested on all sides. France would accept a reduction in battleship strength to 105,000 tons, the memorandum added.

In view, however, of the possibility of development of new types of battleships, France would reserve the right to construct 70,000 tons of capital ship replacements. It was assumed this reference was to the new German super-cruisers which France fears will require capital ships to combat.

The French memorandum insisted that any agreement signed here should be reached in relation to the problem of limiting land and air armaments. It declared a profound conviction that any armed conflict among France, the United States and the British Empire was unthinkable and said the French naval program corresponded strictly to a defensive policy conforming to international agreements, especially the Kellogg Pact renouncing war.

Conference Held

After issuance of the memorandum, Premier Andre Tardieu of France conferred with Foreign Minister Dinc Grandi of Italy. Grandi declined to discuss the conversation except to say, "Italy has received the French figures with maximum reserve." Italian circles were patently annoyed at the French tonnage figures, considering them too high.

The Japanese memorandum joined the British and French in advocating reduction of battleship size. The Tokyo delegate suggested a maximum ship of 25,000 tons, a reduction of guns with 16 inches to 14 inches (Britain had suggested 12 inches) and an extension of age limits to 25 years from 20. They favored a battleship replacement holiday until 1936.

Asks Audiences

The Japanese said they consider it necessary to maintain auxiliary ship strength in adequate proportion to that of other powers and would reduce as they saw fit. It was said, attaches special importance to 8-inch gun cruisers and desires to maintain a minimum strength sufficient for national defense, taking into consideration the strengths held by other powers.

Reiji Wakatsuki, chief Japanese delegate, told newspapermen that what Japan really wanted was a 70 per cent overall ratio in auxiliary ships as compared to the United States. She desired 70 per cent of American strength in 10,000 ton 8-inch gun cruisers, wished to keep her present total of 75,000 tons of submarines, and was willing to cut down her light cruiser and destroyer tonnage to what Wakatsuki told the press he had not discussed the possibility of neutralizing the Philippine Islands as a measure to keep peace in the Pacific. He said the only reference he had seen to such a proposal was in newspapers. He said he regarded the question an internal American political matter and added that neutralization of the islands would have little effect on Japan's defense situation.

'RIPE PEACH' WINS $17,000 FROM EARLE AS HEART BALM

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 13.—UP—A jury which had heard of the many romances of Ferdinand Pinney Earle tried today to give his "ripe peach" girl a bigger award than the law allowed, but finally slashed the amount she will receive to $17,000.

It took the jury only 80 minutes to decide that there had been a pre-nuptial agreement under which Earle promised to give Miss Dolores Salazar, Spanish dancer, $15,000 if she would marry him.

Under the original verdict, the famous lover was ordered to pay Miss Salazar $15,000, the amount of the asserted agreement, and $10,000 for maintenance.

Judge Harry Archibald explained that she had testified that she spent only $2,000 for maintenance, "well, we want to give her the whole $10,000," Foreman Melvin Nethercutt said. "But we'll make it $20,000."

Verdict Amended Standing in their places, the jurors returned an amended verdict, giving the dancer the $15,000 they decided she had been promised and $2,000.

APPOINTMENT OF HUGHES CONFIRMED

the vote tonight, after the Norris opposition developed on the floor of the Senate into a major politico-economic issue. A dozen speakers, from the ranks of the Democrats and the western Independents, attacked the supreme court's recent rulings in utility cases as tending toward government by and for big business.

Only Senator Glenn, Rep., Ill., made a formal defense of Hughes' appointment.

Norris' concluding speech was an emotional attack against what he termed a despotism of money. He warned that the nation was facing an "awful precipice threatening engulfment of the human race by mergers and trusts" and painted a dire picture of a future in which "a man at the head of a mahogany table will give orders to the peasants of farm and factory."

Trusts Charged "You can't defend Hughes without defending trusts and monopolies," he said. The path of civilization, he said, was strewn with the wrecks of empires and governments which fell when those who controlled the wealth became arrogant and insolent, treating people as if they were slaves.

Senator LaFollette of Wisconsin, said the struggle was "economic war," and while he did not want to inject politics into the discussion, he warned fellow Senators to read the Massachusetts Congressional election returns of this week, in which a Democrat was elected.

Hughes will be formally sworn in, immediately taking up his duties, when the supreme court reconvenes Feb. 24 after a four-week recess, it was expected.

MORTEMOTH KILLS MOTHS

The gas from Mortemoth crystals not only protects your furniture for a long time, but contact with it kills all moths, their eggs and their dangerous larvae in furniture which is already infested.

The proper method of using Mortemoth crystals is to tie them in small sacks, and to place these sacks down in the channel of the piece, as deeply as possible, behind the cushions, so that, upon expansion, the gas will spread and fill the spring units in the back and in the bottom of the piece.

When the sacks are empty, fill them again.
